Prologue

In a civilization as advanced as ours, people often lose sight of the essential values of life. As a result, rifts are created between people and then between nations. We believe that this condition should be corrected in any possible way, and that through the Exchange Student Program, one solution has been found that will aid in the solidifying and cementing of ideas and relations between countries.

We feel, therefore, that it is fitting that the 1955 Murivian pay tribute to the Exchange Student Program represented by Stefan Aronson from Sweden, first exchange student at Brookline High School.

MURIVIAN EDITORIAL STAFF

The Editorial Staff at work

Many times, Stefan, we have noticed you peer into Room 121, and seen the chaos and confusion of juniors, seniors, papers, and books. You are really viewing a hard-working group of students producing an outstanding yearbook. The seniors of the staff well deserve their positions for they have offered two years of service daily and during vacations up to the very day of distribution. The Juniors are gaining the experience they will need the following year in preparing their own yearbook.

The papers and books are merely displays of ideas for new and better layout, a different approach for write-ups, and more effective photography— So next time you pass the Murivian Room, Stefan, we want you to understand that we are just a group of over-enthusiastic students teaming together to bring you the best yearbook ever.

MURIVIAN BUSINESS STAFF

"Okay, this is a stick-up, hand over the Murivian loot." Steffan, with a handkerchief over his face, surprised the diligent Murivian Business Staff with these choice words while they were assiduously counting out and turning in the money from the recent Murivian drive.

Besides campaigning for the Murivian Editorial Staff as a publicity department, it also acts as a check and restrains many of the Editorial Staff's extravagant ideas.

Four times each year the Business Staff makes it possible for the student body to pay painlessly for the book on the installment plan. Because of their excellent sense of frugality both staffs of the Murivian can look forward to another prosperous year.

The many problems of the Business Staff

School Committee

Row 1: Mr. Noonan, Mrs. Pinanski, Dr. Kendrick, Mrs. Peabody, Mrs. Burack. Row 2: Mr. Burr, Mr. Hickey, Dr. Hennessey, Dr. Caverly, Miss O'Brien, Dr. Hendricks.

Dr. Kendrick congratulates Miss Spaulding on her fiftieth anniversary of teaching at Brookline High School as Dr. Caverly looks on.

William F. Young, Jr.
Acting Headmaster

The pages of this Murivian tell the story of Brookline High School's activities for 1954-55. Especially, it is the story of the Seniors who have contributed in the greatest measure to these many events. It is the record of one year of a school's life, a good year, made so by a very fine group of people. To the Seniors my very best wishes for their continued success and happines.

WILLIAM F. YOUNG, JR.
Acting Headmaster

Guidance Counselors

Mr. Woodman

Mr. Grinnell

Dean of Girls

Miss Sawyer

faculty

Seated: Miss O'Leary, Miss Niland. Standing: Mrs. Guehring, Mrs. Hanley.

Administration

To a visitor entering into this massive structure that we call Brookline High School, the running of this building must seem a complicated affair. He would be amazed to learn that it takes only a small body of secretaries to keep the building operating efficiently and smoothly. Patiently answering questions and filling out forms, the members of this department are always willing to do more than is required of them.

Seated: Miss Peckham, Mrs. Woodbury, Miss Horn, Mrs. Joseph. Standing: Mr. Black, Mr. Joslin, Mr. Corley, Mr. Joseph.

Art, Speech, and Music

The three departments of Art, Speech, and Music have been grouped together because they embody most clearly the creative and initiative ways that a student can endeavor to increase his background in the appreciation of arts. These departments aid in the development of character and poise through speech therapy classes, band, orchestra, chorale, and the art program, as well as adding to the students' interest.

Seated: Miss Maguire, Miss Berriman, Miss Poland, Miss Hamblin, Miss Greenshields. Standing: Mr. Dunbar, Mr. Avery, Mr. Ehnes (Head of Dept.), Mr. Wall.

Business

The Business Department offers a well-rounded preparation for those who plan to seek positions immediately after graduation. It also offers an excellent background for those who plan to continue their education prior to going into the field of business. Practical usage of all studies are offered to students, whether it be on the switchboard, with the Central Treasury, bookkeeping for the bank staff, or as secretary for the various department offices throughout the school.

Guidance, Homemaking, and Library

The Guidance, Homemaking, and Library Department although presented as one, are three of our school's most active groups. Mr. Woodman heads the former by directing the paths of high school's many bewildered students; while Miss Cronan leads the homemaking instructors who prepare their pupils to be thrifty and competent housewives; and Miss Philips with the other librarians opens the cover to knowledge by presenting displays and talks which prompt all students to delve in the wealth of literature.

Seated: Miss Phillips, Miss McGuire, Miss Gerrish, Miss Egan, Miss South. Standing: Mr. Grinnell, Mr. Archibald, Mrs. Means, Mr. Woodman.

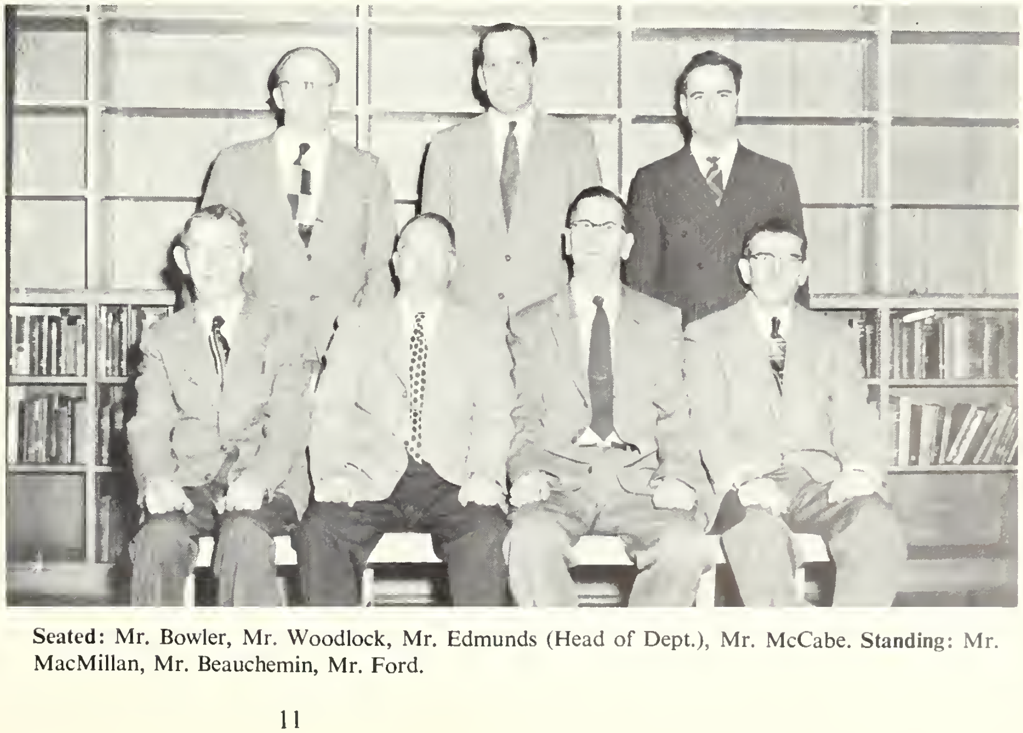
English

Since English is the only subject required all four years, it is doubly important that the staff be competent. We feel fortunate, therefore, to have Miss Spaulding at its head. The English Department's main purpose is to train young minds to think analytically and logically, thus preparing them for college, for business, and for life. One of the progressive features of this department is the creative writing course, ably taught by Mr. Newsom. This course is for the student who shows natural aptitude towards writing original compositions. However, in all English classes the student is given adequate preparation in writing and the fundamentals of grammar so that he will be better equipped for all endeavors he undertakes.

Seated: Mrs. Savas, Miss Johnson, Miss Shaw, Miss Sawyer, Mrs. Triska, Mrs. Joseph. Standing: Mr. Wilkinson, Miss Deal, Miss Tiews, Mr. Jordan, Mrs. Spencer, Dr. Campbell, Mr. Weeks, Mr. Newsom.

Industrial Arts

The Industrial Arts Department, directed by Mr. Edmunds, serves to educate vocationally those who may not have the benefit of post-secondary education. In addition, it offers supplementary courses for a student who does not intend to further his education. Mr. Edmunds believes, after working with the students, that industrial arts are beneficial to both groups, because they give a practical understanding of the fundamentals necessary to the field of industry.



Seated: Mr. Bowler, Mr. Woodlock, Mr. Edmunds (Head of Dept.), Mr. McCabe. Standing: Mr. MacMillan, Mr. Beauchemin, Mr. Ford.

Mrs. Arnold, Miss Vanacore, Miss Manter.

Latin

From the fundamentals in the freshman year to Virgil in the senior year, the Latin Department offers a complete course in the language of the ancients. First-Year Latin, taught by Mrs. Arnold and Miss Manter, offers the student a basic knowledge of grammar complete enough for the successful translation of Latin prose and poetry as taught by Miss Vanacore. In addition to learning grammar, Caesar, Cicero, and Virgil, the Latin student also increases his vocabulary and gains valuable training for his later education.

Seated: Mrs. Ginty, Miss Bates, Mr. Ward (Head of Dept.), Miss Zelinka, Miss Anderson.
Standing: Mr. Downes, Mr. Moulton, Mr. Fitzgerald, Mr. Bruce, Mr. Bates, Mr. Borg.

Mathematics

"X" = Mathematics. The proof of this can be seen in the countless faces of students as they prepare for either basic background or scientific and professional training in mathematics. Their aim, as is that of the director of the department Mr. Ward, is the making of clear and exact thinkers through the study of mathematics.

Seated: Miss Douglass, Miss Placido, Miss O'Brien (Head of Dept.), Miss Pfleghaar, Miss Iaconis.
Standing: Mr. Rinaldi, Mr. Mather, Mr. Friedland, Dr. Shepard.

Modern Foreign Languages

Under the able guidance of Miss O'Brien, the Modern Foreign Language Department offers the student his choice of three languages: French, German, and Spanish. Miss O'Brien has inaugurated in the past few years seminars and rapid advancement classes for the student who shows that he has an aptitude in languages. This is the most known progressive feature in the department. However, this department stresses oral work, pronunciation, and reading, along with grammar and vocabulary. The former are emphasized in order to make the student more proficient in the language of his choice and prepare him for the continuation of this language throughout life.

Physical Education

In recent years, the Physical Education Department, supervised by Mr. Hines, has concentrated its program on such activities as special remedial gym classes and ballroom and square dancing, as well as its regular curricula of apparatus work and sports. These aid the student in developing physical fitness and an increased interest in athletics.

Seated: Mr. Hines (Head of Dept.). Standing: Mrs. Brusko, Mr. Bemis, Miss Kelly, Miss Bentley.

Science

From the learning of fundamentals in General Science, through the study of primary life in Biology, followed by the relationship of properties in Chemistry, to the study of matter and energy in Physics, the student of Brookline High has the opportunity of partaking in a science course each of his four years, thus becoming more aware of his surroundings. This department, supervised by Mr. Hollingworth, strives to give each student the fundamental knowledge and the will to conquer other new fields of science.

Seated: Miss Campbell, Miss Abel, Mr. Hollingworth (Head of Dept.), Miss Bruce, Miss Murdock. Standing: Mr. Warren, Mr. Bartlett, Mr. Wells, Mr. Keene, Mr. Lowe.

Social Studies

Students of all houses are given the opportunity to participate in the program of the Social Studies Department. For the first time, World Civilizations, previously offered to the upper three houses, was extended to include freshmen, thus broadening the younger students outlook on world affairs. Also included in the curriculum are American History, which is compulsory, Problems of Democracy, and Modern History. Seminars conducted in American and Modern History are examples of the ever-increasing popularity of the progressive system of education, which is rapidly becoming a vital part of the Social Studies Department.

Seated: Miss Weeden, Miss McCabe, Mr. Merrill, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Hartley. Standing: Mr. Scotland, Mr. Coe, Mr. Howard, Mr. Meyers, Mr. Friedland, Mr. Smith.

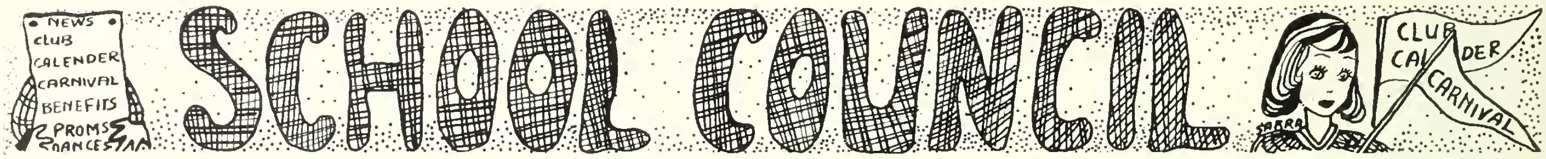
SCHOOL COUNCIL



The "Fish" meditates

Where should I go first?

This has been the cry of many students, not only new to B. H. S. from various grammar schools, but also new to B. H. S. as exchange students from foreign countries, like Stephan Aronson, when suddenly their two favorite clubs decide to have meetings on the same day at the same time. At this moment a group of very competent students, members of the School Council, are finding a solution to this and countless other problems of B. H. S. students.

This forementioned committee is called the Calendar Committee, and only one of the many functioning committees of the council. Other committees spend time discussing lunchroom improvements, constitutions of all clubs, and the construction of a students' lounge.

Operating as a small scale democratic government, this group, elected by the students, sets down its fine ideals and traditions to be followed by other schools both here and abroad.

MARSHALS

Stefan traipsed jauntily down the corridor and unknowingly walked in front of the marshal. Horrors! The marshal rebuked him mildly and explained that one of the most important functions of the Marshal Force is to be sure that all traffic keeps to the right of the corridor.

At lunchtime Stefan ordered his customary bottle of milk. When he left the table he forgot his milk bottle. Suddenly he heard a familiar voice.

"Say, Stefan, don't you know that we marshals are supposed to see that you remove your papers from the table?"

"Of course," said Stefan. "You marshals just see to it that everyone obeys school rules, helping to make Brookline High a better place. Don't worry, you won't have to correct me again," he said as he tossed his milk container into the barrel.

In the beginning, there was chaos

COURT OF JUSTICE

Where were you on the night of—

Never mind. What are you doing tonight?

Dum, de, dum, dum.

11:33—We were working on a slop table detail. My partner was Marshal Brook High.

11:35—Suddenly approached Fresh Frosh carrying his tray. He put down his tray and walked away.

11:36—We nabbed him on B. H. S. Article 1955 Section 16A.

1:45—He went on night trial for interrogation. He refused to cooperate.

1:50—Big John Spooner and his associates moved in. Things began to roll. Trial was held in Superior Court, Brookline High School, Norfolk County. Defendant was found guilty as charged and sentenced to two months lunchroom duty.

This exemplifies the judicial procedure which is the life blood of B. H. S. All those who break the rules are subject to punishment by the Court of Justice.

ALPHA PI

Keys to a kingdom of wealth and understanding of people and ideals are those which dangle from chains around the necks of girls and gleam from the lapels of boys. They are the keys of Alpha Pi, a society which honors those students at Brookline High who show leadership not only scholastically but also in extra-curricular endeavors. It is the proud sign of achievement and recognition for outstanding work.

"You see, Stefan, Alpha Pi is more than just an honorary society, as it tries to establish goals and broaden its influence and significance. Mimi Silbert and her colleagues strive to make Alpha Pi more than just a name but an organization that functions to bring unity to the school.

We want you to realize that it tries to bring people closer together by a common bond of knowledge and understanding so that you will be able to teach those in your land that there is a tie between all peoples who strive for better standards and finer ideals."

Our fair Honorary Society

AERO CLUB

Go fly a kite!

"Plane leaving on Runway 6—all exchange students report to the in gate for immediate take-off on the Aero Club special. But wait—something's wrong with the motor. Over the loud speaker comes the blaring cry—'Aero Club repair squad at Hangar 1.' "

These wizards of the propeller and wing learn about aeronautics as a hobby towards making a career. Guest speakers and scientific films are presented at the meetings to aid them in keeping abreast of the most up-to-date advancements in the field. These mechanical geniuses construct and aviate their own miniature species of the air, manned by Pilot Warren. Our own demons on the airways become expert aviators of the future because of the experience gained in the club.

"Plane ready to leave—destination, Brookline High."

ART CLUB

" 'Art for fun's sake' . . . Zat ees our motto," says Jacques, student from France, beret cocked to one side as he deftly mixes paints on his palette.

Jacques and the other Art Club members have fun learning about art by sketching, finger painting, and dabbling in water colors under the guidance of Mrs. Woodberry. Lectures, movies, and book reviews form another important part of the club's activities. The highlight of the year is the annual art contest sponsored by the Art Club for the whole school.

"Maybe I can enter and win a prize to bring home to France, the capital of artists," says Jacques.

The above note is one of the countless received by the Affiliation Committee in response to their efforts in the promotion of world friendship and better understanding with other nations. However, verbal thanks has been given this organization by our exchange student whose own people have been recipients of the Affiliation's packages. Stefan feels that by having representatives from all departments at B. H. S. in on these projects that the European's attitude toward his friend, the American, has been greatly aided leading to one of a more lasting friendship.

"As we march down the field" . . . dressed in new red and blue, the band of Brookline High cuts a crazy rug wherever it shows its bright shiny instruments to play music that our educated students call "real hep." At auditorium programs, rallies in the gym, football games, class day exercises, or simply at rehearsals, its melodies sound forth to charm all music lovers who appreciate "live jive." Under the baton of those "cool cats," Mr. Corley and Billy Mercer, the band has become an integral part of Brookline High School.

BANK STAFF

Who's got the money, honey?

76%, 91%, 84%,—the Bank Staff is busily tabulating the deposits. This group, however, always achieves 100% in efficiency and cooperation. I should know, you see, I work on the staff.

Every other Tuesday morning at 8:45, we thirty-five members go to Room 226 and receive our instructions from our faculty advisor, Mr. Wall, and from senior assistant, Ann Weinbaum. Some of us, called messengers, then go to the homerooms to collect the money. A few tellers remain in 226 to total the deposits brought back by the messengers. On week days we often deliver notices.

At all times we work accurately and carefully. I don't mean to brag, but anyone can see that the thrift program at Brookline High works effectively and speedily through the efforts of our excellent Bank Staff.

BIOLOGY CLUB

"Eek! A snake!" "Catch it quickly. Bring it to Mr. Keene's snake pit."

The snake pit, one of the many projects of the Biology Club, is a large, well equipped terrarium in the new north wing science laboratory.

This remarkable club, besides learning the fine points of biology, takes many field trips, visits laboratories, carries on a conservation program at Larz Anderson Park, and sponsors our annual Science Fair. Under the direction of Mr. Keene, the bi-monthly meetings serve to add to the regular biology course, by teaching more delicate subjects than can be handled in the classroom.

So, get out that dissecting set and microscope, examine those bugs and beetles, and enjoy the finer aspects of biology.

He made it himself

"A. S. A.—tungsten 80," "F:35 at 1/100," "Kodabromide F-2, f:11 at 15 seconds."—Are these formulae for a new weapon? Are they coded messages on the planet Mars? No, they are only expressions used by members of the Camera Club to tell how they snapped their latest pictures.

Led by their president, Alan Krigman, the camera fans learn the fundamentals of good photography through movies, lectures, and demonstrations. After taking the pictures, the group retires to their darkroom to develop and print their masterpieces.

In addition to the teaching aspect, the club sponsors field trips, exhibitions, small competitions, and the big, annual contest for its members.

Just relax, "look at the birdie," "smile pretty," "hold that pose," and get ready to be "shot" by an avid group of shutterbugs, the camera club members.

CENTRAL TREASURY

Do you need money?

Whatever your financial needs or problems, consult the Central Treasury of Brookline High for fast, friendly, dependable, and efficient service. Although no dividends are received, the interest paid benefits an overwhelming majority of satisfied students. To pay bills, receive loans, bank money, or borrow chairs—whatever your needs may be—Mr. Ehnes and his assistants are there to help you. Managing all school financial transactions, both extra-curricular and various house activities, the Central Treasury serves over forty activities in your school community.

And what are your qualifications, Miss Greenshields?

Is it supposed to be that color?

"Help! Help! Poisonous gas is escaping!" cries a frantic freshman, alarmed by the strange noises and smells which escape from Room 332 after school. This bewildered lower classman does not realize that these sounds and odors are the results of one of the many experiments performed by the Chemistry Club. This group, organized to create and further interest in science, employs various methods to painlessly educate its members. By engaging outside speakers, showing movies, conducting demonstrations and experiments, and arranging trips to such places as the Monsanto Plant, the B. H. S. scientists broaden their knowledge and understanding of chemistry.

What have we in common with our fellow friends in France? Not their language, not their customs, but "chess" the universal language. The sixty-four squares of the chessboard provide not only a link between our fellow friends in France, ruthless Reds in Russia, and calculating Communists in China, but also our peaceful pals in Sweden.

The king and queen with their eight pawns, two knights, and two bishops march across our troubled world leaving behind people concentrating so intently on one of the oldest games in the world, chess, that all prejudices are forgotten.

Under the able leadership of Eddie Yonkers and the faculty advisor, Mr. Smith, the Chess Club has a superior team as in the past years.

Hark ! The Herald Angels Sing

Stefan Aronson was talking to me yesterday, and he happened to mention that his favorite assembly so far was the one at which the Choral Society performed. I am not certain whether Stefan was more impressed by the fine musical selection or the large majority of girls who participated.

He particularly complimented Mr. Josephs, commander in chief, on the fine job he did. I then told Stefan a little about the society,—that the meetings are to prepare girls for singing at school functions, and also for the pleasure of those who just enjoy singing.

I am still wondering about Stefan though,—girls, or music?

DEBATING SOCIETY

Resolved: The Debating Society is one of the most active and helpful organizations in Brookline High School.

I got up and took my place at the rostrum. This is it, I realized. Bill Cowin had told all of us that were debating that our debate should be exceptional because we had our exchange student as special guest and that he should know exactly how the society operates and what its purpose is.

I had the affirmative side so that I had no need to be nervous because of the topic. How could I lose? The Debating Society is actually a class in itself. It teaches the members to gather information accurately, reason out their opinions, and present their argument in the form of a debate. It also teaches each member poise and self-confidence and, most important, that everyone, no matter who he is, is entitled to express his opinion without fear. We have the opportunity to come in contact with other schools and we are considered to have one of the finest debating teams in the high schools with whom we debate.

With all this in mind, I hesitate no longer. I felt sure of myself and my convictions . . . naturally, we won.

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

How now, Loretta!

"There's no business like show business!" Whether it be acting, props, or costumes, the excitement of the theater can not be matched. For the aspiring thespians of Brookline High School we have the Dramatic Society.

Twice a year we see their talent, but this is only a small part of the year's work. Many hours have been spent studying, rehearsing, and perfecting every move that we see. Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Joseph, the Dramatic society handles its productions in a professional manner.

Besides being very stimulating to those who wish dramatics as a pastime, there is also the opportunity to gain experience in the theatrical field for those who aspire to have their names in lights, here or abroad.

F. H. A.

"Add a dash of pepper, a pinch of salt, now pop it in the oven and let it bake for thirty minutes." Steffan was giving these directions to the members of the Future Homemakers of America. I wondered what was going on and with that, I questioned Steffan. His reply was very simple, "I'm teaching them to prepare a Swedish dish for me."

The Future Homemakers of America are continually learning and attempting new and different ideas for foods. This group of girls form an organization that takes part in many inter-school meetings, so that the members may meet other girls with similar interests. This is the only organization that offers a curriculum of homemaking at B.H.S. It has always maintained an enthusiastic group of members.

FRENCH CLUB

HEY DICK ! ! !

Dick and Stefan walked into the activities room where the students were gathering for their French Club meeting. Stefan sat down and immediately Dick began speaking French as if he were "un Français."

The French Club meetings are conducted entirely in French; even the guest speakers expound in French. The club helps to increase the fluency, accuracy and speed of oral French. Mr. Rinaldi makes French still more interesting by relating to the club "en français" many of the experiences he had while in France. Each meeting is a unique and interesting excursion into the application and comprehension of the French language, customs and people.

GERMAN CLUB

"Sprechen sie Deutsch?" Anyone who is able to answer "Yaaaaaah" finds his place is with his components in the meetings of the German Club. After having learned the fundamentals of the language, their interests become so keen, that to continue and to learn about the fascinating little Germans towns of old, to the people and their ideals and strange ways and customs, is naturally the next move. In these meetings students meet and talk with people who have the same objectives. There are lecturers to tell of their experiences, special programs, and even social events, to look forward to. All these things broaden an already ardent interest in our great neighbors across the sea.

The League and its many activities

"Pass the scissors." "Give me some paste." "Where is the paper?" This is what I heard the first time I walked into the Girls' League Room. The girls were busy at another service project. This time they were making scrapbooks for hospital children. I am told that they also make toys in their Christmas Workshop and place girls in settlement house work. Whether it's a Halloween party, a mother and daughter tea, or a House committee meeting to clean up the League Room, the girls work together and seem to have loads of fun doing it. The Girls' League is a wonderful idea. I'm going to take it back to my school when I go home. Maybe I'll suggest a League for the boys, too.

"Let's contact one of the operators in Sweden where our exchange student lives . . . let's see . . . WIQLZ calling WIFRZ . . . WIQLZ calling WIFRZ . . . Come in WIFRZ . . ." That's the Ham Radio Club teaching its members radio technique. One member is preparing for his examination for his amateur license (FCC). Another member is learning Morse Code. Many of the members of the club may be headed for careers of hobbies in radio, others may become technicians. If some members are not careful with the equipment, they may be headed for the nurse's office. Most of the members, however, are headed for good constructive fun and entertainment.

How many chips in the cookies?

The other day Stefan opened the door to room 425 to ask Mr. Weeks a question when what should confront him but an enormous stack of Junior Red Cross boxes. The question he had come for was completely forgotten. He was so filled with wonder at this spirit of giving that possessed B. H. S. His question was, "Mr. Weeks, tell me what this organization does?" Mr. Weeks went on to explain the national organization, its functions, and its importance in Brookline High. Stefan was overwhelmed by the generosity of the American people.

LATIN CLUB

Those aren't Caesar's legionaries marching in a phalanx! They're Latin Club members, toga-clad and ready for the initiation of the newest classical-minded students into their organization. Although Latin is considered by some to be a dead language, its language, ideals, and traditions which tried to unite all people together under a common bond of government in Roman times, still lives on. Guided by Mrs. Arnold, the club delves into the lives of the ancient Romans, becoming acquainted with their history, customs, and cultural achievements. The informal discussions and films at the meetings, along with such projects as plays, make the study of Latin more enjoyable and broaden the student's knowledge and understanding of it.

LIBRARY AIDES

The Library is a place for learning

Yes Mam

Our library could be considered one of international flavor for its volumes hold adventures of everything from the Arctic to the South Seas, of the world in the present and past, and it even helps an exchange student return to his homeland for a brief visit.

If you have ever been in the library searching for a certain book, and being unable to find it, start looking for a librarian? It isn't necessary to find a librarian, because there are always library aides who will be glad to help you. This ambitious group works during its study periods, before and after school, and its aim is to circulate books among the students.

Do not think that the library contains long forgotten volumes stacked away on dusty shelves, because you'll be wrong, the library aides help to maintain a scene of bustling activity and all books are used excessively.

LITERARY SOCIETY

"As twilight dimmed the brilliant ray . . ." Hmm, what rhymes with ray? Gray, stay, way, day, lay?

As I wrote in the darkness of evening, a voice broke through the silence offering me the suggestion of joining the Literary Society, well-known to all B. H. S. students.

Not only does the pupil have the advantage of learning more about writing jovial jingles, pensive poems, educational essays, and somber sonnets; but also, the student gains a finer appreciation of literature by reading and discussing narrative novels, popular plays, and beneficial biographies which broaden their horizons and awaken them to many truths of our foreign nations, for words are one of the chief means of communication. Our belief in the power and potentiality of words exists here and will be transmitted to those across the ocean by the exchange students of many lands.

But there must be something that rhymes with blah

LUNCHROOM STAFF

The Lunchroom Staff

Ummm! What's that aroma? It must be the Lunchroom Staff or the Chef's Club at work preparing another exotic hot-dish or batch of brownies. Under the expert leadership of Mrs. Williamson, the staff and its indispensable, hard working student volunteers keep the school well-fed and the lunchroom spic and span. The four daily ravenous lunch shifts daunt them not! Students always look forward to mealtime at Brookline High where they forget schoolwork and indulge in a half-hour of feasting.

Mr. Joslin, faculty advisor to an intelligent group of B. H. S. long-hairs, extends to you who have not been aware of our Music Society's activities this year an invitation to make a fresh start next year and "come git some learnin'."

On the first Thursday of each month our group of stalwart young music lovers brave the elements to be fascinated by Brahms, Beethoven, Bach, and others. You are acquainted with these masters, we presume. If you are not, then by all means come in!

ORCHESTRA

Stefan sat very still and then suddenly he listened more closely to the music. It was the orchestra playing for the entire school on the day of Christmas vacation, and since one of the carols was one of the traditional ones from Sweden he was both pleased and impressed.

Stefan, the orchestra is a very essential part of the school and through its achievements has often brought fame and recognition to the school. They have participated in numerous music festival.

Cool Cats

Brookline's most diligent and talented musicians devote one night each week pursuing the paths of classical music. PEP CLUB

"No, Stefan, the red carnations that you see all over the school just before the Thanksgiving Day rally are not for the annual flower show, but an invitation from the Pep Club to join them in helping Newton see 'red.' "

It is obvious that this wasn't the only factor which made it impossible for us to be able to see Newton turn from orange and black to a deep scarlet on "turkey day" of '54. It was the Pep Club's vim, vigor, and vitality that brought most of the crowd thundering to its feet with one cry in its throat, "Murder Newton!"

The main function of this club is to put across to the students some of the enthusiasm and confidence which they have for every sporting event. The bookcovers, sweatshirts, and beanies are all part of their system of recruiting students of all ages, sizes, and shapes to increase the moral support for the athletes and to keep Brookline on top.

Brookline's prospective Einsteins look ahead to the future! Trying to understand and master the mechanisms of the world in order to advance man's knowledge is the goal toward which they work by study, lectures, and experience.

Delving into the various theories of nature and the world, the Science Fair gives these bright youths an opportunity to develop their thinking and reasoning power by entering various projects in the famous fair, a highlight at B. H. S.

Exchanging ideas with one another, as full-fledged scientists exchange ideas with one another though they be of different nationalities, they progress with vast advancements important to the scientific world.

RADIO CLUB

There he goes! Isn't he divine, and look at all the autograph hounds chasing him! I wish I could put on a performance like he does and be famous like him. As a matter of fact, I was just reading an article on his life the other day, and it said that he got his start right here at Brookline High! Only in this country have most teenagers the opportunity to get ahead by practical experience given to them in high school.

At B. H. S. he joined the Radio Club; and, in the article, he says that it was the most rewarding and helpful experience that he has had since he started toward his goal in the acting profession. He said he got his start not only through the club's numerous activities and opportunities, but also through the guest speakers and discussions, and appearances on many local programs where he was noticed by a talent scout in his senior year.

"Golly! What am I standing here for? I'm joining the Radio Club now!"

Brookline Briefs

by-line Saggy Moore

Good evening, this is your exclusive reporter, Saggy Moore, bringing you all the news that's fit to print.

My first exclusive—one of the reasons that our exchange student is at Brookline is through the assistance of the school paper. Through the dauntless and tireless efforts of Steve Cavior and his assistants, the Sagamore has gained recognition spreading Brookline's fame internationally.

Approximately every two months the feature articles, sports briefs, and international features, along with this column, of course, have been influenced by the political and economical pressure brought to bear right here at Brookline. Through the paper the students are enlightened to what is going on and some of the inside chatter of the school. As a newspaper is essential to the communities and nations of the world, so is the Sagamore equally important to the student body of Brookline High.

My next exclusive—have you heard. . .

"Imagine it! I'm really here. I've been asked to tea at the Vanderbilts'. Oh, oh, there's Mrs. Van Astor looking straight at me and I don't know what to do. How can I balance my teacup on my knee and still be free to shake hands with that charming poet who has just spoken on social significance of E. E. Cummings? I wish I'd been at the last meeting of the Social Customs Club. They discussed all the rules of proper behavior at a tea. At the meeting before that, we learned how to set a table for a tea or luncheon. At the next meeting we're going to . . . oh! . . . the teacup is falling . . . Oh!"

SABRA

When in Spain, do as the Romans do

The wide-spread rumor that the mambo is a direct result of the efforts of the Spanish Club is false. Though the Spanish Club's program is varied in nature so as to include lectures, films, and discussions, Miss Placido has not included the mambo as yet. But in a broader sense the club serves a vital purpose. The students gain interest, knowledge, and appreciation of another culture. We hope that the aims of the organization will continue to inspire its members in tolerance and understanding, and that by next year the mambo will be included as part of the curriculum.

SQUARE DANCE CLUB

"A dopaso with your left hand, a right to your partner, right left grand . . ." Mr. Bemis enthusiastically leads the Square Dance Club through its paces as they "square their sets." These energetic students learn and execute the many intricate and colorful dances that Mr. Bemis had brought back from the western part of our country. Looking in on them from the outside, one can see that each one of the members has a wonderful time while at these meetings. If the urge to square dance keeps becoming more popular, as is certainly in evidence at this club, we may be "doin' the square dance" instead of the mambo.

STAGE and ELECTRICAL STAFF

I'll be a monkey's uncle!

Curtains! Lights! The live-wire electricians of the Brookline High School Stage and Electrical Staff are ready for the performance! Little do we, the audience, realize the tremendous amount of work the staff members put in and their importance in the success of every production. Deftly setting the stage with props, scenery, footlights and the like, they prepare the vital behind-the-scenes technicalities of every show and assembly. Shhhhh . . . the overture is about to start! Sit back and enjoy the play . . . it never could have been possible without the efficient Stage and Electrical staff who work together as a team to accomplish the necessary actions which must be done quickly and efficiently. These boys exemplify a lesson that could very well be taught to others in our own and other countries; co-operation and activity leave little time for disagreement and dissension.

STAMP CLUB

Steff, why don't you come to the Stamp Club meeting Wednesday and bring along some envelopes that you've received from home? We at B. H. S. have an ambitious group of philatelists. Mr. Seamans and the members of the Stamp Club are looking for you to join their organization which would be of interest to all who wish to collect, trade, and learn more about stamps. Stamps of all nations are brought in, discussed and evaluated, and your stamps would aid us immeasurably. At the meetings, the students have the opportunity to gain a wider knowledge in the field of stamp collecting. Stamps are important in increasing our acquaintances with other nations, as you well know. Students join the Stamp Club to share and add to their collections with both old and new issues. By the end of the year, collectors have added variety and interest to their albums. So we'll look for you Wednesday.

STUDENT FORUM

Hmm, not that bad

One of the most intellectual groups in Brookline High School is the Student Forum. In this organization are given lectures, and discussions, where students gain knowledge of the background, issues, and solutions of international events. International events discussed within the forum are of vital importance in the world today, as is the importance of having the American Field Service bring foreign students to America. Both of these organizations serve to promote active cooperation and friendship.

Here at Brookline High School, we are shown a fine example of the stimulation of world peace through our exchange student, Stefan, and our Student Forum.

VOCAL ENSEMBLE

As I slowly strolled on a cloud of pink satin shaded with white, I heard a heavenly choir of angels singing in the distance. Their pleasing voices aroused my curiosity, and I rushed towards the vicinity of their lovely music. At last I found it, but when I peered in the room, I came back down to earth with a very unmusical thump! I was no longer on my private cloud, and these were not angels. The group of fine young ladies was the musical pride of B. H. S.—the Vocal Ensemble.

Every year this extraordinary group of girls appears at the state and regional music festivals. The girls also serenade their classmates at Christmas time with carols.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The 1954 Football Squad under the coaching of Mr. Downes and Mr. Schluntz, finished the most successful season that B.H.S. has had in many years. The team won the championship of the newly formed Suburban League and were Class A State Champions with an undefeated record in nine games.

The backfield consisted of Jim Hennessey, Jack Fay, and Co-capt. Charlie Ritter, who was chosen on every all-scholastic team, was at half-back. Dick Steele and Earny Moreno shared the fullback assignment. This explosive backfield outscored the enemy 249-56. Spearheading the frontier was the other Co-capt. and center Dave Johnson, another all-scholastic player. At the ends were Bob Bruce and John Norris. Holding down one tackle spot was Brookline's best all-around athlete for many years, all-scholastic Alan Sutherland. At the other tackle was Jack Pignato. Paul Lynch and Andy Murphy worked out of the guard positions.

Highlighting the season was the resounding defeat handed to Weymouth 33-0 after an eight year drought without a win against them. The annihilation of Waltham High 38-7 was billed by the sports writers as the game of the week. Lastly the team clinched the championship by dropping Arch-rival Newton out of the running by a 37-7 score on Thanksgiving Day. The climax of this tremendous season came on January 20 when the team was feted with a banquet and presented with jackets by the people of the town. To the coaches go a great deal of credit, but as Coach Downes said, "good coaches are made by good players." As a team this was the best that B.H.S. had produced for a long, long, time.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Stefan, if you happened to be walking by the gym on a Friday evening, you might happen to see a ball being thrown into a basket by five boys dressed in blue uniforms. This crazy mixed up game is called basketball. This year that basket seemed to close up at the wrong times, and the team only had a record of four wins and eight losses in league competition.

The team, coached by newcomer, Mr. Schluntz, came very fast at the end of the season and wound up by beating Newton 80-72 in the finale. The Red and Blue won three out of their last four games and showed signs of having a successful season next year. Returning to the team will be Larry McNulty, Jim Early, Ken Carter, and "Skippy" Skiversky.

This year Arnie Gerson, Jim Hennessey, and Dave Garelick, sparked the team to triumph.

Good luck to the boys next year and may they have much better success next fall.

HOCKEY

Let's give 'em the old one, two

This season the B.H.S. Hockey Team started out like "greased lightning," winning six out of their first seven games and tying only one. Sparked by the defense of Al Sutherland and goalie George "Pudgy" Wilkins the McCanmen led the Eastern Massachusetts League throughout the season until they were upset in the last game by a hustling Natick club.

Goals scored against Brookline in the final few seconds of play during the two previous playoff games with Malden and Wakefield also added to the club's decline in the league standings. The team ended the season by tying for second place in the league with a 6-3-1 record enabling the "pucksters" to compete in the state tournament, in which they were defeated by Arlington 4-2.

Other outstanding seniors on the squad included Captain Frank McDonnell, Center John Norris, and Wings Arthur Norton and Alan White.

The team played excellent hockey throughout the season, yet they just couldn't seem to put the puck in the net during those last few final games. Although they were just nudged out of a championship the boys made an excellent showing for themselves and are a credit to B.H.S.

SPRING TRAINING

BASEBALL

Everybody rates the Brookline nine as the team to beat in the Suburban League this season. With the exception of second baseman it is an all veteran team. Coach Fitzgerald has one of the top pitchers of schoolboy baseball in Arnie Gerson. Arnie has a good high, hard ball and once he develops better control of his curve ball, he should be the number one pitcher in the League.

Allan Sutherland, football and hockey all-star, will play center field. Allan led the team in hitting last year, batting over .400. Charlie Ritter, who, with Allan, made the Herald All-Scholastic Football Team, will play left-field. He was runner-up to Sutherland for batting honors. Allan is left-handed all the way, while Charlie is right-handed.

Walter "Gus" Taylor, who, with Sutherland represents the lefthand power of the team will start at first base. Johnny Norris is back at short stop and Macey Rosenthal will hold third base.

Alan White is another holdover in right field. Dick Steele, returns to do the catching. Art Norton, a utility player last spring will fill the second base spot, left vacant by Tommy Norris. Billy Kenney will alternate with Gerson on the mound. The pitching staff will also be filled in with Steve Cole and George Walsh.

To match the great football team, the Brookline High School Mermen also produced a winning team. They went through a great season and emerged as state champs, third in New England. Under the leadership of Captain John Morse, the swimmers captured meet after meet losing only to Harvard, MIT, and Pawtucket East, the current New England Champions. The Mermen finished their underwater maneuvers with a sparkling nine to three season. The Brookline swimmers culminated their triumphal season by sweeping all Massachusetts competition aside and topping all the entrees at the New England Championships at Pawtucket, Rhode Island. They came out of the water and the championship fifteen points ahead of all Massachusetts entries to become the state champs.

TRACK

The track squads this year have been under the direction of Mr. Lyman Avery, a new member of our faculty. Interest in track and cross country has been on a high level and success in each sport has been outstanding with many individual records broken. Seventy-four boys participated in cross-country. Of those, twenty boys were awarded the varsity letter and fifteen boys won their class numerals. Charley Ritter, Jack Fay, Ernie Moreno, and Steve Wallack were the main stays of the indoor track team that finished the season with a good record in the Metropolitan Track League The schools in this group represented some of the strongest teams and individual performers in the state and in the nation. The underclass members of this year's track squads are looking forward to next year and to greater success. Interest in this traditionally strong sport at Brookline High School has increased a great deal this year. Under Mr. Avery and his new assistant coach Mr. Borg, much new track talent has been developed, particularly in this year's freshman class so that the track outlook is promising for an even stronger team in 1956.

GOLF

With a beautiful drive down the fairway which was followed by a putt into the hole, Brookline again showed their strength in this little-known sport at school, but one followed by many avid fans. Each fall is practice time for the coming spring when they play their matches. Mr Woodlock says "Although we have difficult competition, this is the best balanced team in years, and chances are very promising for success." In this team we have many outstanding veterans including Billy McGrail, who last year won the state interscholastic championship. Besides this our last year's record of only one match lost, which placed us second in the Southern Greater Boston Division will also aid our victory. Belmont, added this year, Waltham, Newton, and Watertown will mean close and interesting games. Keep those drives straight and those putts in the hole and we can be sure of another victorious team.

Row 1: Quint, Freedman, Gilman, Fleishman, Lerner, Troderman, Mr. McCabe. Row 2: Garelick, Winn, Golden, Cowin, Morrison, Alper.

TENNIS

With the coming of spring, a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of tennis. With warm weather and courts in readiness, the Brookline tennis team is ready to start this season. Under the tutelage of Coach Thomas McCabe, the racketeers are preparing for what may be the most successful season in many a year. At the helm of the racketeers this year will be Captain Ernest Fleishman. Fleishman will be a strong contender in the state championship at Winchester for he beat last year's champ in a dual match. With such veterans as Bill Cowin, Mike Troderman, Dave Garelick, Maier Freedman and Elliot Morrison returning, the Red and Blue are sure to win.

For the first time in Brookline's tennis history, practice began in the middle of the winter, beneath the gym in the track room. With a corps of enthusiastic freshmen, ambitious sophomores and hopeful juniors turning out, the varsity should also have a winning season. With this outlook Brookline should be well represented on the tennis courts this year.

CHEERLEADERS

Short skirts, slim legs, and torn sneakers, plus everlasting loyalty are the characteristics of B.H.S.'s cheerleaders. From the beginning of the football season and through the entire winter and spring these girls continue to add life and spirit to our sports events. Not only should our teams be praised but also the girls who spur them on to victory.

DRUM MAJORETTES

Under the talented leadership of Shiela Cronin, the B.H.S. Drum Majorettes captured the Massachusetts Drum Majorettes' Crown at Farmingham last fall. These girls along with the cheerleaders are the inspiration of our team. We are all proud of the clever routines which make their work so superior.

Kneeling: Cronin. Standing: McDuffie, MacIntyre, Holmes, Albert, Aranoff, Haley.

BASKETBALL

At least once a week in the region of the gym the girls of all houses don the uniforms of their respective colors and houses and dash to the floor to engage in competitive basketball. The girls basketball is not "commercialized" as the boys is but nevertheless the girls enjoy the game and play it very well. Every year there is a great demand in the girls sports line-up for basketball which has become one of their favorites. Right now their competition is limited to intermural games within the houses but perhaps in the future a girls' basketball team will be up there ranking with the boys in the school's activities.

FIELD HOCKEY

The girls' hockey team might be termed as the unsung heroines of B.H.S. Outfitted like lady wrestlers they meet their opponents with vim and vigor and yet still manager to maintain their status as ladies. These girls receive very little praise and almost no public recognition for their endeavors. They work assiduously many hours during the week and have in all previous years bestowed glory and honor upon Brookline High.

GIRLS' SWIMMING

In direct apposition to the Mermen of B.H.S. are their female counterparts the mermaids of B.H.S. These hard-working young ladies occupy the pool several times a week to improve and perfect their swimming techniques in the water. The girls practice diving as well as swimming and have developed some pretty fancy formations. Water ballet is occasionally incorporated in an afternoon's work as they glide, skim, and dive along the surface of the deep blue. They may look water-logged when they emerge from the pool but don't let first appearances fool you—these girls know how to keep "abreast of the tides."

Row 1: Grossman, Nemzoff, Markum, Feinberg, Conlon, White. Row 2: Davis, Blanchard, Garber, Baerson, Fine Matz, Goldfarb. Row 3: Kramer, Fields, Chasen, Gross, Farber, Weinstein.
